About Us

an Indigenous Child Well-Being Agency

This Circle shows who we are, without hierarchy, and how we work together to serve those in the innermost circles - children, youth and families. Our values can be found on either side of the Circle serving as a reminder to keep them at the forefront of our minds.

We serve First Nations, Inuit and Métis children, youth and families living on and off territory within our service area. We provide wholistic support to ensure children, youth and families are safe, happy, and healthy. Check out some of our services on the back page and our website for a complete listing.
